0 1

Select the true statement about the fact that the European Court of Human Rights ('the Court') treats the European Convention on Human Rights ('the Convention') as a 'living instrument'.

[1 mark]

- A The Court considers that it can add new Articles to the Convention. ☐
- B The Court considers that it can ignore differing traditions and cultures across member states. ☐
- C The Court considers that it should attempt to interpret the Convention in a way which recognises changes in society across member states. ☐
- D The Court considers that it should ignore earlier interpretations of the Convention when deciding new cases. ☐

0 2

Select the true statement about the impact of the European Convention on Human Rights ('the Convention') on English law.

[1 mark]

- A A court is not a 'public authority' within the meaning of the Human Rights Act 1998 when interpreting English law to which the Convention may apply. ☐
- B A court must interpret rules of common law in such a way as to take into account relevant provisions of the Convention. ☐
- C A court must not apply a provision of an Act of Parliament which is incompatible with a provision of the Convention. ☐
- D A court must not interpret an Act of Parliament in a way that Parliament probably did not intend simply to make it compatible with a provision of the Convention. ☐

0 3Select the false statement about the institutions of the European Union.[1 mark]*A The Council of the European Union has law-making powers.☐B The European Commission has an important role in enforcing European Union law and policies.☐C The European Court of Justice is the final court of appeal on all law for all member states.☐D The European Parliament has law-making powers.☐0 4Select the false statement about the rule of law.[1 mark]*A It cannot operate properly if the Government can easily interfere with decisions made by judges.☐B It encourages law makers to produce laws which are as clear and comprehensible as possible.☐C It prevents judges from making decisions on cases in which they have a personal interest.☐D It supports attempts by governments to limit access to the civil justice system by reducing state funding for bringing claims.☐0 5Select the true statement about delegated legislation.[1 mark]*A A court may declare delegated legislation invalid if it is not within powers granted to a minister by the enabling Act.☐B By-laws can only be made by local authorities.☐C In any year, there are about as many Acts of Parliament as there are pieces of delegated legislation.☐D To become law, statutory instruments must be approved by both Houses of Parliament by way of the affirmative resolution procedure.☐5*Turn over ►

The plan proposed three different kinds of activity. First, they would march through the centre of town on a very busy weekend, ending with a demonstration at a very popular zoo with a petition to demand the zoo's closure. Second, they would persistently obstruct and abuse workers entering or leaving a factory which processed animal products. Third, they would invade land on which events such as horse racing were being held to try to force cancellation of the events.

- powers that the police may have to control the march and demonstration
- criminal offences that may be committed in carrying out the second and third activities
- how the relevant provisions of the European Convention on Human Rights (as given effect in English law by the Human Rights Act 1998) may affect the rights, duties and possible remedies of all involved.
